

Douglas Hylan
Brooklin
LD 2106

It has taken only a year for the blitzkrieg from Washington to bring terror into the streets of any state that dares to uphold our democratic traditions. A private army of masked thugs, lethally armed but seemingly unaccountable, feels free to terrorize and murder both legal immigrants and citizens without repercussions.

The regime in Washington has made its agenda clear -- they are working to prevent a fair vote in the Fall elections. States that stand up for what is right will pay a price in the short term, but are our only hope for saving our Constitution.