I am opposed to this bill and believe individual towns should maintain the ability to address and implement changes. The master plan, with in-depth input from the citizens in the town I live in, will be nullified and zoning regulations cast aside. Having just built a home in the area, we were forced to abide by the zoning regulations at an additional cost to us as individual citizens. Housing needs do indeed need to be addressed, but at the local level where greater insight to the specific community can be addressed.
