

Ross Florance
Roque Bluffs

Aquaculture is the future for Maine and protecting natural resources, local jobs and sustainable growth. There has always been working waterfronts in Maine for as long as there has been people living near the shores.