

Tyler Niven
Mere Point Oyster Co.

This Bill concerns me as my family has just recently started an oyster farm off the coast of Maine. As a recent college graduate from an out of state school I was very excited to come back home and create a career for myself working for my family farm in the state that I grew up in. The future of aquaculture looks bright right now however with this bill being passed, it could negatively impact not only my own career but the other employees that we have working on our farm.