at the age of 16 the mind has not totally developed that usually happens at age 18 to 20. At 16 one cannot enter into a legal contract, cannot join the military, has not finished their high school education cannot buy tobacco products I could go on but I think you get my point. At 16 the majority are not educated enough to make a logical decision. For these and others that I will not mention I believe the committee should vote ought not pass on this bill
