

Alexandra Parisi
Portland

My name is Alexandra Parisi, I own a property management company that specializes in short term rentals such as Airbnb. I started this work as a way to support my son and I and to continue to live in Portland, where I have raised my son. I employ other local owner run businesses as partners, and believe my guests are an important part of stimulating our small business community. My guests are here to enjoy the restaurants, breweries and shops that we hold dear to our community. I do this work with Maine in the forefront of my mind, to share this place with those who in turn bolster our economy. In the last 4 years of business, I like many others have had the fear in the back of my mind that my business is not safe. I am asking for this threat to be removed so I may continue to do the work I love in the place I love. Thank you.
