

Ragan Toppan
Orono
LD 1016

I will be talking about my own experience supporting myself through college and making time for an unpaid internship when money is tight. This is personal to me because so many important experiences that contribute to my career exist within an unpaid internship, but that opportunity may only be available to students who can afford it.