

Marilyn Wallace
Alfred

Please do not remove the state inspection law. It may not eliminate all unsafe vehicles on the road, but it certainly keeps a lot of them off the road. How many Mainers are driving a beater, especially during our winter weather. With the price of either a new or used vehicle, people are keeping a car a lot longer. Yes, repairs are expensive, but that is one of the costs of owning one. One of the reasons to eliminate it mentioned was that garages have to find something wrong in order to compensate for the paltry $12.50 inspection fee. If these practices are that common, perhaps the State needs to clamp down on the dishonest garages and mechanics. The other answer is to raise the price of the inspection. Thank you for your time. Marilyn Wallace, Alfred