To the Committee,

I am writing in opposition to the added language regarding the future of vanity plates. While I myself do not have a vanity plate, there are numerous individuals I know now that do and would now potentially be revoked because of this new language. Or lack of language.

Ld 130 stipulates that mentions of gender or gender identity are to be banned, so I guess the woman who drives a GRLPWR plate isn't allowed. A proud mom can't drive her BOYMOM or GRLMOM plates. A dad can't sport DUDEVAN or GRLDAD etc. Ridiculous in my opinion.

LD 200 and LD 289 give sole power to the Secretary of State to decide what they deem appropriate thus stripping the right of freedom of speech for an individual.

Freedom of speech and expression shouldn't be left at the sole discretion of just one individual. And freedom of speech and expression shouldn't be so limited. What will the state do next - limit the bumper stickers an individual puts on their personal vehicle? At least with vanity plates you're getting the power to charge an additional $35 registration plate - so let the people determine their plates not the government.
