My husband and I have two young children and are avid bikers. We also are closely involved in the national bike touring community. One of the big things Maine is missing is a long distance paved bike path. Biking with young children on roads is not safe. The other long distance gravel trails in maine are mostly unusable due to ATVs creating thick loose gravel. Having a long distance paved trail in Maine will enhance my own families adventures and draw thousands of other like families throughout the country and Canada to the region! Living in Gorham for most of my life I have spent hundreds of hours on the current finished section. It has acted as a destination to meet with other families. I can not think of another person in the town who has not been on the path, and who doesn't think of it as an absolute asset to their home town.

I strongly support LD 1370.
