I am Nancy Nicholson, a senior citizen, and have owned a home in Bangor for 10 years. I wholeheartedly support the creation of a passenger rail system from Portland to Bangor, connecting to Boston and the Eastern Corridor. I echo every point that Joseph Leonard has made on his facebook page. I have heard that this is simply too expensive. While a direct cost-analysis may look foreboding, the actual ancillary benefits in terms of tourism, the creation of good jobs in the Bangor area and facilitating transport of anyone without a car, or who does not like to drive at night, would eventually put us into the black.
