As a physician (now retired) I have always pursued and encouraged active life styles and exercise. As a supporter and member of the Bicycle Coalition of Maine, I have enjoyed rides all over the state and on the downeast Sunrise Trail (which is a good example of a rail-to-trail conversion). As a long term resident of Lewiston, I endorse the Casco Bay Trail initiative and look forward to the eventual continuation from Lewiston to Brunswick, utilizing the abandoned rail line that runs via Lisbon and Topsham.

Even though I endorse rail travel and realize that tracks could once again be restored along the right-of-way, now is the time to convert the route from the Portland area to Auburn to a recreational trail.
