

Iver Lofving
Skowhegan
LD 1231

Ferries have to stay on the islands at night for safety reasons. If someone gets sick they are transported by ambulance to the mainland. There's no "golden hour" without it. People will die if the ferry is on the mainland at night.