

Douglas Pemberton
Harrison

To allow caregivers to cultivate more plants would only help our patients get better prices on there medicines and allows supply chain to not be so depleted especially when summer rolls around