

Rob Thibodeau
Biddeford

With the continuing deregulation of things such as plant count it helps caregivers give more to the state. It helps the caregivers work against the black market. This is seen in the revenue that the state has taken in from caregivers just paying taxes. With it being the most profitable revenue area for Maine at this time, why would you want to regulate more and therefore hurt this cash flow?