

Megan Marquis
China Village

I don't think there's been any fraudulent election activity that would warrant an entire committee of people to review something. I think what would be better is to get rid of traditional campaign funding sources and have all parties support and follow the Maine Clean Election Act. It's time to take corporate funders out of politics and make it more equitable for those that don't necessarily come from a high socio-economic status to be civically-engaged.