

Alex Schmitt
Jackman

I believe Omp is overstepping there powers in making rules to benefit large corporate companies and to put small businesses and growers out of business by making unfair and expensive rules that the average people can't afford. They need to include someone from the medical cannabis community's in the rule making and need some kind of oversight as well to make sure they don't make unfair rules to put small business out