This cost is too great to bare and would only hurt small cannabis caregivers many of whom are barely hanging on allowing the large corporations to effectively eliminate them most caregivers run 6 to 10 strains minimum the cost of testing each strain is $505. So per harvest its an additional cost of $3000 to $5000 dollars no other industry from food to alcohol to cigarettes nothing requires this testing the reason stated is due to cost also several batches of the cannabis on the shelf in medical and rec had clean tests but when pulled and individually tested failed which shows the tests do not work or protect patients at all thank you
