

STATE OF MAINE
ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIRST LEGISLATURE
FIRST SPECIAL SESSION
JOURNAL OF THE SENATE

In Senate Chamber
Tuesday
May 30, 2023

Senate called to order by President Troy D. Jackson of Aroostook County.

Prayer by Poet Laureate Julia Bouwsma of New Portland.

MS. BOUWSMA: As a poet, the prayer today is in the form of a sestina.

Prayer after another hard winter. Now all I crave is the verdant alchemy of trees. I can offer no blessing that doesn't begin or end in limbs clambering skyward. Leaves so green when you breathe their scent you cannot distinguish sweet from sharp. The cut branches' bright bubble of sap at the end of my pruning shears. This heart is a woods road, marked by so many footprints in soft-set mud. These hands are farmer's hands, calloused among the plums, lopping shoots of blossoms, pink and pungent with promise. Here is what I know about blossom. It fills you as fast as it fades, perfume lingering as petals wither, blessing and loss lifting into the air together. A scent you could hold in your hands, it's that palpable. The urge to survive, our fear of being crushed by all this green beauty, fear that maybe we'll fail to open ourselves wide enough, that the heart can't possibly bear another flood or windstorm, spring snowsquall that cuts through the daffodils, bowing their yellow heads to the earth. That cuts and splinters a branch from the apple tree I just planted, already blossom heavy in my mind, already picturing the Black Oxford held like a dark heart in my palm, each bite of pulp and sugar and tannin and juice a blessing, spilling the mouth. For perhaps prayer is simply a spilling over. That green surge of peepers' song that overflows my hilltop bog and leaves my hands trembling under the cacophony of it all. Sometimes, I have the urge to hand this too much feeling off, to pass it along and stop walking the world cut side out, though I don't, I won't, there's too much to do. The soil green already with the weeds to be pulled, eggplant seedlings purpling and to blossom on the picnic table, ready to be planted, which is the only kind of blessing I know. Tuck everything I love into the soft clench of earth, root my heart to the page, against the blank white page a thicket of vines. My heart will grow tendrils, words coil sinew by emerald sinew. Take my hand, stranger. Let's grow, stranger, together here in this bramble. What a blessing to know that somewhere, someone is listening. At the lilac bush I cut a lush bouquet then pound the stem ends with a hammer. Blossoms scatter my countertop. The split bark peels back to expose green skin heartwood. I'm told the flowers drink deeper that way. I'm still green to these tricks, but learning, and grateful for the chance to feel new, heart hungry for cycle and season, even after all we've lost. Can we blossom another word for prayer from our pain? Can we stand hand in hand and try? My people don't name death when we pray for those cut from us, we don't name our grief, we just keep unfurling our blessing louder, higher, past our own green song, past the bowl of the sky, hands aloft, hearts in our hands, knowing each wound, each place we've been cut is a spot where blessing might set. Our voice, our work rising as blossom.

Pledge of Allegiance led by Senator Eric L. Brakey of Androscoggin County.

ORDERS

Joint Order

Expression of Legislative Sentiment recognizing:

Carter Roughton, of Saco, a member of Troop No. 371, who has attained the high rank and distinction of Eagle Scout. This is the highest award in Scouting and is given for excellence in skills development, leadership, personal growth and community service. We extend our congratulations and best wishes;
SLS 577

Sponsored by Senator BAILEY of York.
Cosponsored by Representatives: COPELAND of Saco,
GATTINE of Westbrook, O'NEIL of Saco.

The Joint Order was READ.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from York, Senator Bailey.

Senator BAILEY: Thank you, Mr. President. Mr. President, men and women of the Senate, today I'm happy to welcome Carter Roughton and his father, Kevin, to the Senate Chamber. Earlier this year, Carter attained the rank of Eagle Scout for Boy Scout Troop 371. The honor of Eagle Scout is the highest rank that the Boy Scouts of America offers. It is an honor given for excellence in skills development, leadership, personal growth, and community service. Only 5% of Boy Scout members ever attain this rank, and I did find out this morning that Carter's father in fact attained the rank in his younger days. For his service project, Carter coordinated the making of a new stretch of trails in the Moses Woodman Preserve for the Saco Valley Land Trust. He also built primitive benches in woodland habitats with the trail debris. Throughout the project, Carter sought financial support, materials, and volunteers, all while overseeing each component of the work. During Carter's Eagle Scout Court of Honor, he shared that one of his favorite scouting memories was attending the Scout Masters Camporee at West Point in 2022. He also mentioned camping at Camp Hinds, Piazza Rock, and co-troop leader Leo DeLima's backyard. Family and friends will go on more camping trips over the summer. At school, Carter is active in the Classics Club and the National Honor Society at Thornton Academy. He's graduating this year and will attend Champlain College in Burlington, Vermont, where he will study game design. Thank you, Carter, for your contributions and service to our community. I'm proud to present you with Legislative Sentiment to you and to recognize you for achieving the rank of Eagle Scout. The character, friendships, lessons, and values that you acquired through the Boy Scouts of America will carry you through graduation from Thornton Academy, on to college, and beyond. I'm very proud of you, I wish you the very best, and I know that you have a bright future ahead of you. Thank you, Mr. President.

The Joint Order was PASSED.

Sent down for concurrence.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair is very pleased to recognize in the rear of the Chamber Carter Roughton and his father, Kevin Roughton. They are from the city of Saco and they are the guests today of the Senator from York, Senator Bailey, and the entire Maine Senate. Would they please rise and accept the congratulations of the Maine Senate.

Joint Resolution

Joint Resolution in Memoriam:

WHEREAS, the Legislature has learned with deep regret of the death of:

Mal Leary, of Augusta, the longtime dean of the Maine State House press corps. Mr. Leary was one of the most trusted people in the State House and was well-liked by politicians and aides for his old-school approach. Chronicling state politics for more than 45 years, he reported across all mediums in a career that started during the tenure of independent Governor James Longley. His contributions to journalism in Maine were tremendous. Mr. Leary will be long remembered for his integrity and commitment to transparency in Maine's government and sadly missed by his family and friends and all those whose lives he touched;

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Androscoggin, Senator Rotundo.

Senator ROTUNDO: Thank you, Mr. President. Colleagues of the Senate, Mal Leary was an excellent reporter. He was fair, thorough, and deeply committed to ensuring the people of Maine knew what was happening within their state government. Mal seemed to know everything that was going on within the State House and missed very little in his reporting. I got to know him during the 14 years I served on the Appropriations Committee. Mal would monitor our meetings from his tiny press corps office in the basement of the Cross building and, like clockwork, turn up in our committee room a few minutes after the committee adjourned, whether it was 5:00 in the afternoon or 1:00 in the morning, and he had a way of positioning himself between the horseshoe and door so you could not avoid him and avoid giving him a comment.

I always appreciated and respected Mal's commitment to the public's right to know about the work of their government. He was a driving force in the establishment of the Right to Know Advisory Committee, which has done such important work in bringing forward legislation that allows the public greater freedom of access to information. While I will miss Mal here in the State House, his standard of excellence in journalism and his commitment to the freedom of access to information will continue to inspire and inform all who knew him and all who will follow him. Thank you.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Oxford, Senator Bennett.

Senator BENNETT: Thank you, Mr. President. Fellow Members of the Senate, there are five words in this sentiment which I want to draw your attention to: trusted, well liked, old school, integrity, transparency. It's really hard to have been involved for a number of decades, as some of us have been involved, in Maine politics and government without getting to know Mal Leary. I worked with him back when I was President of the Senate on this passion of his to create a Maine-Span, a Maine version of C-Span. This was before we had really a well-functioning internet and cameras everywhere, and we have the kind of facility that we now have, to get our work out to the public, where they can participate and observe everything we do. Mal was way ahead of the curve there, trying to make sure that transparency was utmost in the work of the public that we do here.

Mal was one of the people that you never have felt shy about talking to because he always received the information that was given to him respectfully, thoughtfully, and nonjudgmentally. He took it as part of an unfolding tapestry of work that we're all involved with and, as a result, he had perhaps the keenest insights about what was going on here in the State House of everybody I ever met. In fact, he sometimes seemed to know better about what I was doing than I did.

I learned from Mal that the simple act of talking with other people, listening to them, rather than pre-judging, making assumptions, actually listen to people and hear what they have to say, is - is really critical to getting our work done, and I fear that not as much of that is being done these days. So, with Mal's passing, we see the passing of an age in Maine politics, and I will do my part, and I ask you all to do the same, to honor his memory by sustaining the qualities embedded in those five words: trusted, well liked, old school, integrity, and transparency. Thank you, Mr. President.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from York, Senator Lawrence.

Senator LAWRENCE: Thank you, Mr. President. Men and women of the Senate, I want to echo the thoughts of both my colleagues who spoke on this Resolution and to provide my perspective on Mal, because he was both a great reporter and somebody I would consider a friend, and with Mal, you had to be always on your toes. He's not somebody you could shmooze, he's not somebody you could try to steer in a direction. He was nonpartisan, he didn't engage in personalities in the Legislature, and he had a very - his reporting was very deep, and he would go very deep into the issues and dig out what he felt the truth was and what was often the truth in legislation. We have a citizens' legislature here in the State of Maine and our citizens' legislature operates very well. It operates because we have citizens serving in the Legislature who go outside and work, but it also operates very well because we have a very strong press corps, and a strong press corps that digs deeply into issues, and Mal was a leader of that, that's why he was seen as a dean of the press corps. Mal never took sides on issues. He always presented things with clarity and with reasonableness, and he didn't represent anybody, any side here in the Legislature. Who he represented was the public, and the public's right to know, and the public's right to know the details of what was going on.

I will tell one humorous story about Mal. You know, Mal used to - we would have caucuses and Mal - we tried to keep confidential what was in the caucuses - both sides did - and Mal would often know, even before the door of the caucus opened, what had taken place in the caucus. He had such great sources around the State House. And there was a recent Facebook post, I think it was from the President's secretary that was on Facebook, about a bat being in the State House and the bats that live in the State House and occasionally appear, and there was speculation that Mal had trained one of them to go into our caucuses and eavesdrop so that he would know. That's who Mal was. He had such great contacts around the State House and was so trusted. There's very little that took place in this State House that he did not know and make available to the public. And we will sorely miss having his conscience here in the State House. Thank you.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Arostook, Senator Stewart.

Senator STEWART: Thank you, Mr. President. Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, I rise just to join in the chorus here. As a young person in the Legislature, I didn't get a lot of time with Mal, certainly not as much as some of you, but I really enjoyed the opportunity that I did have to work with him. I thought, to the Senator from York's point, he would really dig in on some complex policy issues, and you don't really see that all too often in this business. Oftentimes, it's - it could be about clickbait or other motives that are driving some work that's done, but not with Mal. Mal was really committed to getting the truth out there, regardless of how difficult or complex it might be and how challenging that might be to somebody on the outside trying to figure out what's happening, you know, under the dome. And he really, he wasn't on the outside, he was a staple of the institution. Even in the short time that I knew him, that was made blatantly clear to me. And I just - my only regret is that I don't have more time to see him work and to see the products that he would produce and try to help educate the people of Maine. And so, he will be sorely missed by all, and thoughts are certainly with his family.

The Joint Resolution was ADOPTED.

On motion by Senator STEWART of Aroostook, supported by a Division of one-fifth of the members present and voting, a Roll Call was ordered.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Androscoggin, Senator Brakey.

Senator BRAKEY: Thank you, Mr. President. I rise in opposition to the motion in front of us. This is a piece of legislation that was put forward by both myself and Representative Mike Lajoie of Lewiston from the other Chamber, seeking to address what is a very real acute problem I'm sure that many of our communities are experiencing, which is the - a real shortage of law enforcement officers for the need that's out there. It's gotten so bad that communities are bidding law enforcement officers away from each other. I know that in Auburn, where I reside, and our neighboring city of Lewiston, where Representative Lajoie resides, we've often been in a bidding war against each other for law enforcement personnel. Now, the proposal before us - and I will note that the alternate report waters it down to just a study, which would be a good step - but the bill in front of us was a proposal that came to me from both the Auburn Chief of Police and the Auburn City Manager, who's a former Chief of Police for the city. And what they've observed is that right now, under our current system, where there's only one pathway for training and certification to become a law enforcement officer in the state through the residential academy, this has become a bottleneck, where we can't get enough officers trained quickly enough to fill the roles, and it's also a deterrent for those who perhaps they've got a family, and they can't take months away from their family to go into a residential training program. So, all this is looking to do is examine perhaps in our community colleges, for example, would it make sense to have a nonresidential training program where we can train people through - with all the same standards to qualify to be a law enforcement officer and help with the shortage that we're experiencing right now. So, if you recognize the shortage, as I'm sure we all do, and you think that creating some easier pathways to have nonresidential training would be a way to alleviate that, as the heads of law enforcement in my community believe, then I hope that you will vote against the pending motion and support the minority - the Minority Ought to Pass as Amended report. Thank you.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Androscoggin, Senator Brakey.

Senator BRAKEY: Thank you, Mr. President. This is a divided report coming out of the Health Coverage, Insurance and Financial Services Committee. I'm speaking in opposition to the Ought Not to Pass motion and in favor of the Minority Report. Essentially, what the alternate report and what the underlying bill would do is it would allow for different plan designs for individual and small group plans on the health insurance exchange. What we heard is that since, well, since a law that went into effect just two years - two years ago, and I've spoken with Senator Bailey, I know that there's a lot of evaluation of how this is working out in the long run, but according to that law, these plan designs for small group and individual are required to be the same in a lot of respects. But we're hearing from employers that they need more flexibility of options in terms of the plans that they're picking and customizing for their employees. And I think it has been recognized by many that for individuals buying an individual health plan, a certain degree of standardization is - and simplicity is appreciated, but that employers, when they're picking plans for their employees, they're often dealing with - they're often working with assistance through brokers or agents who can help walk them through the process a lot more and understanding the options that are there. And so, I ask the Body to reject the Majority Ought Not to Pass Report so that we can accept the alternate report and give folks some more choice and flexibility in health coverage options. Thank you.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Pierce.

Senator PIERCE: Thank you, Mr. President. Good morning, ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. I rise to speak on and ask for your support for L.D. 2, An Act to Address Maine's Housing Crisis. This is a transformational piece of legislation and the first step in addressing our housing crisis in Maine. This legislation is a Housing First initiative. It is estimated that there are over 400 to 700 people living in chronic homelessness in Maine. This legislation provides an opportunity to directly help the most vulnerable in our community by working with developers to build housing and then providing 24/7 psych-based services. These services help tenants with issues that may occur regarding mental health needs, substance use issues, or other help that may be needed as these Mainers become housed. It also allows funds to be available to help those not in need of 24/7 services but might need some level of help or care.

Senator Pouliot and I had the opportunity, along with other members of the Joint Standing Committee on Housing, to tour Huston Commons, a Housing First building in Portland. We saw firsthand how this unique program works. We met the tenants, toured the apartments, and spoke with the staff. We saw the success of the space and learned about the additional resources and support needed to replicate this type of housing. In addition, our committee met with the former State Senate President in Utah, who has championed this type of legislation as well and found great success in his state. One of the amazing elements of Housing First is it is a counterbalance to what is happening now, where Mainers are currently - chronically homeless Mainers are living in our shelters, in homeless encampments, on the front steps of businesses, and/or cycling through our emergency rooms. As I stated above, this legislation will be transformational for our state, most importantly for those most vulnerable by providing safe, warm, affordable place to call home, but also for the greater - our greater communities. Housing First is the first step in our journey to help all Mainers find housing at all levels. I'm grateful for the work of my colleagues on the committee, for their incredible attention so far to the work that needs to be done. I hope that you will follow my light. Mr. President, I ask for a Roll Call on this bill. And I thank you for your time today.

The Doorkeepers secured the Chamber.
