(4-27) the Sargent Corporation, of Orono, on the celebration of its 100th Anniversary. Founded in Stillwater in 1926 by Herbert E. Sargent, Sargent Corporation has spent the past century helping build Maine. From early road, airport and utility work during the Depression and World War II years, the company grew into one of the State's defining heavy civil contractors. In the 1950s and 1960s, Sargent Corporation played a major role in Maine's highway era, working on the Maine Turnpike and key sections of I-95. Over the decades, the company also helped shape access to Maine's North Woods; served as a trusted builder for renewable energy, airport, landfill and utility projects; and earned a reputation for doing hard work the right way. That history continues today through employee ownership. In 1992, Herbert E. Sargent's grandson, Herb R. Sargent, founded Sargent & Sargent. In 2005, that company purchased H.E. Sargent and reunited the family name under Sargent Corporation, returning local ownership and reinforcing the company's long-held belief that a well-supported field can tackle the toughest projects. In 2013, Sargent Corporation completed its transition to a 100% ESOP company, making every employee an owner. As Sargent Corporation marks 100 years, it does so not only as a company with a long history in Maine, but as a company still rooted here, still building here and still carrying forward the values that have defined it for generations: investing in people, helping them hone their craft, doing the right thing and winning in the field. WHEREAS, the Legislature has learned with deep regret of the death of:

(4-40) Richard Stephen "Rich" Gurin, of Blue Hill. As a young man summering in Sorrento, Mr. Gurin earned a reputation along the coast as a winning skipper, with boxes of racing pennants attesting to his prowess at the helm of Wee Scots and One Design S-boats. He went on to join Procter & Gamble in its sales division. His executive responsibilities expanded to include leadership of brands such as Pringles and Orange Crush. After 20 years with the company, he took the helm of the Crayola brand as Chief Executive Officer of Binney & Smith. During his sixteen years there, he expanded the company into a global leader in fine art and coloring products and helped revitalize downtown Easton, Pennsylvania. A selfless leader with a strong motivation to help others achieve success, he had a passion for mentoring and giving back. He gladly served on many boards, including those of Lafayette College, Hamilton College, the Jackson Laboratory, Blue Hill Memorial Hospital and Parker Ridge Retirement Community. He was also honored to serve on the President's Committee on the Arts and the Humanities. In retirement at Parker Point on Blue Hill Bay, he provided mentorship and service to many local organizations. Mr. Gurin will be long remembered and sadly missed by his family, friends and community;

Starting at the ground level, he worked at several banks and credit unions throughout the years, ultimately retiring in 2013 as Chief Executive Officer for Infinity Credit Union, formerly Telco. Having settled in Old Orchard Beach, he was an integral part of the community, and was a parishioner of St. Margaret's Church, where he donated many hours in service to the parish. Before entering politics, he worked as a furniture manufacturer. His public service began in 2000 when he was elected to the Maine House of Representatives, representing Brunswick. He served in the House until 2008, when he moved to the Maine State Senate, representing District 24. He served in the Senate until he was term-limited out in 2016. Throughout his legislative tenure, he was a leading voice on several key issues. He was a strong advocate for dam safety and served as co-chairman of the Legislature's criminal justice and mental health services committees. He was instrumental in the redevelopment of Brunswick Landing and Brunswick Executive Airport and was a key sponsor of the bill that led to the establishment of the Southern Maine Community College campus at Brunswick Landing. A hunter and a gun owner, he was known for his nuanced stance on gun control, supporting measures like background checks for private gun sales and opposing NRA-backed legislation. He also championed labor rights and cared deeply for the less fortunate. Mr. Gerzofsky will be long remembered and sadly missed by his family, friends and community;
